State Budget Issues

Earlier this week, lawmakers released hundreds of amendments to the proposed spending plan introduced by Governor McAuliffe in December. Various salary increase proposals for state employees, state-supported local employees and teachers were submitted. Several amendments would provide the state share of a 6% salary increase for SOQ instructional and support positions at a cost of over $241 million. Several other amendments would provide varying levels of funding to restore the Cost of Competing Adjustment (COCA) rate for school support positions in primarily Northern Virginia school divisions. Amendments propose $2.5 million the second year to establish a grant program to assist school divisions in providing pay incentives designed to attract and retain teachers with needed expertise in hard-to-staff or low-performing schools. Other amendments would provide additional dollars to help schools purchase EpiPens, and to expand preschool and kindergarten readiness as well as Project Discovery. More detailed information about proposed budget amendments submitted by legislators is available here.

Elsewhere on the budget front, state revenue collections through the first six months of the current fiscal year were 6.8 percent higher than the same period a year ago. Collections are running about $200 million ahead of estimates. However, the budget is based on revenue growth of just 3.1 percent for FY15. Budget writers will receive an updated revenue estimate in February (to account for January collections) to be used in shaping the state budget over the final weeks of the session.

Education Legislation

General Assembly consideration of bills was fast and furious this past week, as committees began considering the many bills that were introduced. In the House Education Committee, Republicans began to make good on their promise to address SOL testing and accountability issues. The Committee unanimously approved HB 1490 to direct the Board of Education (BOE) to promulgate regulations to provide the same criteria for eligibility for an expedited retake of any Standard of Learning (SOL) test, with the exception of writing SOL tests, to each student regardless of grade level or course. Writing was excluded because it takes longer and costs more. The bill contains an emergency clause, meaning it would take effect upon passage. It was sent to the House Appropriations Committee, where legislators will look for the $200,000 needed to implement the bill. The Senate is on track to approve its version of the bill, SB 874, but without an emergency clause. A subcommittee also favorably recommended HB 1302 to allow expedited retakes at local expense.

Also unanimously reported was HB 1615 that would allow the use of assessments that include multiple subject areas; that is, to include different subjects like science, math, reading and writing, and questions that promote critical thinking and problem solving, in one test. It is on the House floor for a vote next week.

HB 1674 allows the BOE to review the accreditation status of schools every one to three years, taking into consideration each school's accreditation history, most recent accreditation status, and School Performance Report Card metrics. It was approved in Committee with only one “no” vote.

HB 1585 proposes a different approach to providing flexibility in the local school calendar. It allows 1) an alternative schedule for year-round schools, or 2) a different opening day for schools failing to be fully accredited or for the entire division if more than 15% of all schools in division have failed to reach full accreditation. It was approved on a 16 to 5 vote.

In the Senate Education and Health Committee, legislators unanimously approved SB 821 to abolish the Opportunity Educational Institution (OEI). Approved two years ago, the OEI legislation provided for management of low-performing schools to be transferred to this newly-established statewide school division.

The Committee also approved SB 823 to require at least 20 minutes of physical activity per day or an average of 100 minutes per week during the regular school year for K-5 students, effective with the 2017-18 school year. After much discussion, the panel reported SB 782 which will require the BOE to adopt regulations on the use of seclusion and restraint in public elementary and secondary schools in the Commonwealth that are consistent with (rather than specifically incorporating) federal guidelines.

SB 724, reported on a 9 – 6 vote, would prohibit the BOE from adopting revisions to the Standards of Learning that implement the Common Core State Standards, unless there is prior approval of the General Assembly. SB 1105 establishes a School Health Advisory Board in the executive branch to advise the General Assembly on pending legislation concerning health policy that affects elementary and secondary schools. It was approved 12 -3.
Over 2,250 bills and resolutions were introduced by Friday afternoon’s bill introduction deadline. Here are some additional bills of interest that were submitted prior to the deadline:

HB 2137 changes the path to initial teacher licensure with an endorsement in the areas of career and technical education and mathematics.

HB 2149 requires newly elected or appointed school board members in a school division with one or more schools denied accreditation or accredited with warning for three consecutive years to participate in at least 15 hours of high-quality professional development training in their first year.

HB 2231 permits a school board or a committee thereof to reduce the long-term suspension or expulsion of a student or students who received a greater punishment in certain cases.

HB 2318 requires the BOE formula for assessing high school graduation rates to exclude from rates of on-time graduates, each student who fails to graduate on time due to circumstances outside of the control of the local school board.

HB 2380 requires certain school division staff to receive training about local services that will be available to students with intellectual disability or emotional disturbance upon completion of high school, and to meet with students and their parents to provide such information.

SB 1063 allows public charter schools to designate in their applications whether their employees will participate in the Virginia Retirement System.

SB 1054 requires the State Executive Council for Comprehensive Services for At-Risk Youth and Families to promulgate regulations through the Administrative Process Act.

SB 1199 provides enhanced penalties for certain acts of violence, if the act is committed on the property of a public or private elementary or secondary school.

SB 1286 requires each local school division to publish its school budget in line-item form on its website; current law does not require the published budget to be in line-item form.

SB 1386 requires every person seeking initial teacher licensure or renewal of a teaching license to receive professional development on the screening, intervention, accommodation, and use of technology for students with reading disabilities, including dyslexia.

SB 1403 provides that evidence of achievement of a certain composite score on the SAT, the Preliminary SAT, the ACT, or an International Baccalaureate assessment satisfies the evidence-of-progress requirement for home schooled students.
